SHORT BIOGRAPHY

From humble beginnings on the tiny island of Guam, Neil would go on to spend his teenage years in the tough neighborhoods of Los Angeles. After high school, his thirst for adventure and even tougher challenges led him to join the US Navy where he served for 6 years as an elite Navy SEAL. In 1995, Neil left the military to go to college at Chapman University, where he played football, and later was a member of Chapman's National Championship Lacrosse Team. While at Chapman University, Neil earned a Bachelor of Fine Arts in Film Production from the university's world famous School of Film and Television Studies.
